

The Clinton Restaurant

EST. 1939

*The Babich Family celebrates three generations of serving the Whitestone community and hopes you enjoy our hospitality at the Clinton.
Thank you for your patronage.*

*For a time, in the mid 1800s, Whitestone was called Clintonville after DeWitt Clinton, a governor of New York who was instrumental in building the Erie Canal. Clinton was a Queens resident who summered in Whitestone.
Although our restaurant did not initially have a name, local residents referred to it as "The Clinton" and the name stuck. The building was constructed in 1901, housed a "speakeasy" saloon during Prohibition and is one of the oldest commercial sites in town.*
